Dear Mr. Butler:

Thank you very much for your letter and proposal regarding the Ontario business law reform initiative. I appreciated receiving this material following your meeting with Minister Watson. I value your firm's perspective on the vital issues facing our government and our province.

Our government is deeply committed to ensuring prosperity for our people. While our economy is strong and we are on track for another year of steady growth, my colleagues and I are well aware that this is a highly competitive world. We remain committed to ensuring that, in today's global economy, we have the jurisdiction with the best-educated, most highly skilled workforce. We are equally committed to keeping our business climate competitive, through measures such as transforming income tax collection systems for Ontario businesses, cutting red tape and reforming Ontario's business laws.

Again, Mr. Butler, thank you for sending me the proposal, which I look forward to reviewing in greater detail. Our government will be pleased to take your views into consideration as we work to ensure our province remains the place to be for generations to come. I offer you and your colleagues at McMillan Binch my personal best wishes.

Yours truly,

Dalton McGuinty
Premier

c: The Honourable Jim Watson
