profile

Bill is an associate in McMillan's national Financial Services Group and locally also supports McMillan's Commercial Real Estate and Business Law Groups in Vancouver.

Prior to McMillan, Bill practiced commercial real estate, conveyancing and business law at a regional law firm and acted for a diverse range of commercial, individual and institutional clients. Bill's current practice covers a broad range of transactions, including real estate financing deals, construction and term real estate deals and inter-company debt financing.

Bill obtained his JD from the University of Victoria, where he won a number of awards, including the prize for the highest grade in Property Law. He is an active member of UVic's Business Law Clinic and mentors law students interested in practicing business law.
