profile

Liam Sako is building a broad practice in capital markets and mergers and acquisitions. He works on files relating to securities matters and general corporate transactions.

In his practice, Liam is involved in a variety of transactions including mergers and acquisitions, prospectus offerings, private placements, reverse takeovers and securities regulatory matters. He also supports clients with their continuous disclosure obligations.

During his legal studies, Liam was a caseworker at the Queen's Business Law Clinic, where he provided a wide range of pro bono of corporate legal services to small businesses and startups.
